DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 7 and 8 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on Dec. 06, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5, 6, 12-14, 16, and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USPN 5,950,071 to Hammond et al. Hammond et al describe (e.g., column 2, lines 17-26) the use of laser ablation for removing a thin surface layer of substrate of a semiconductor. The instant claimed limitations of the dependent claims do not further limit the independently claimed semiconductor device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USPN 5,950,071 to Hammond et al. Hammond et al describe a semiconductor, but do not mention a ball-grid-array substrate. The ball-grid-array (BGA) substrate is a very well known semiconductor device and the use of a BGA substrate in the Hammond et al disclosure would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the BGA has been popular for use in common electronics.
